2. IMS CAT Courseware: Complete Guide

You can buy or download IMS CAT courseware after enrollement. It contains following details. But remember that a major component of IMS courseware is available on the “MyIMS portal”. IMS CAT Study Material or courseware comes in two parts: Part A and Part B.

Welcome Letter and Module Zero: IMS Module Zero as a bridge into your CAT preparation journey. If you haven't reviewed the fundamental concepts in a while, this is a right place to start. It helps you ease into your CAT preparation. You'll also find video solutions for this module on the IMS CAT online portal (MyIMS).

Module 1 - Word List & and Grammar: While vocabulary and grammar are not directly tested in CAT exam, but they are useful for other non-CAT entrance exams.

Module 2 - Theory: Theory is designed for self-study. It lays the foundation for understanding the concepts taught by your mentor in the classroom. You should ideally prepare the theory well before attending your classroom session or live online class. If you prefer studying through the MyIMS portal, you can also check out the pre-class video playlists and pre-class quizzes.

Module 3 - Class Exercise: Class exercises are discussed by IMS mentors during classroom sessions or live online classes. These are the questions you solve together in class. If you've missed any lectures, you can simply visit the MyIMS portal and watch the class exercise recap videos.

Module 4 - Practice Exercise: The final part of IMS CAT Study Material is the Practice Exercise. These exercises are more difficult than the previous two sections. You should complete them within a few days of attending the corresponding lectures. If you need help solving these exercises, visit the MyIMS online portal, where you'll find recorded video solutions.

Module 5 – Non-CAT Resources: This module is also divided into three parts: Theory, Class Exercise, and Practice Exercise. However, it is slightly different from the previous modules. The main difference lies in the types of questions included. These questions are taken directly from IMS AdMats and are more suitable for non-CAT entrance exams like XAT exam, NMAT test and SNAP test.

Additional Resources on MyIMS Portal: In addition to the IMS CAT books that are part of courseware, you'll find many more resources on the MyIMS online portal. These include:

- Master classes
- Benchmarking tests
- AdMat mocks
- Full-length test papers
- Previous years' question papers

4. IMS Coaching Programs: Easy Access to Latest Study Material

The best way to get IMS CAT study material is to enrol into one of their course that suits your requirements. IMS offers five broad routes for CAT preparation: classroom coaching, live online coaching, self-learning, test series, and elite coaching. The key difference is how much teaching and structure you need and whether you prefer in-person or remote learning.

IMS CAT Coaching Programs: Comparison

Program	Best suited for	Main emphasis
Classroom coaching	Beginners and learners who benefit from a fixed timetable, in-person classes and mentor interaction.	Structured teaching from fundamentals; classroom community and mentoring.
Live online coaching	Learners who want scheduled teaching remotely and already have a relatively strong aptitude / foundation.	Live online sessions and advanced problem-solving; the page says the program does not focus on teaching basics.
Self-learning program	Independent learners who need flexibility, recorded learning and the ability to study at their own pace.	Recorded content, online practice and mocks; some section-specific options are intended for candidates targeting particular weaknesses.
Test series	Candidates who already have learning resources and mainly need exam simulation, practice and analysis.	SimCAT mock tests, sectional tests, video solutions and analytics; tiers vary in the amount of extra practice and non-CAT mocks.
Elite	Candidates with strong fundamentals and a qualifying profile, such as selected-college students, previous CAT 90+ percentile scorers, or specified professionals.	Advanced preparation rather than basic instruction; includes advanced workshops and mock-test resources depending on variant.

Following sections explain each program in detail and also highlight CAT coaching material offered by IMS coaching.

1. Classroom coaching: IMS classroom programs as a longer, structured route designed especially for aspirants taking the exam for the first time. The approach starts with fundamentals and combines classroom instruction with IMS CAT Study Material and online resources. It is the best fit for students who learn better with regular class times, direct mentor interaction and an external study routine. Specifically in this course, IMS offers CATapult sessions, courseware, one-to-one mentoring, learning videos, practice exercises, benchmarking tests, adaptive practice, SimCATs and sectional tests.

2. Live online coaching: The online-coaching page positions these programs for aspirants with strong aptitude who want to push towards a very high percentile. IMS clearly says these programs do not cover the basics and instead focus on concepts and higher-difficulty problems. It is therefore more appropriate for learners who can keep up with advanced sessions and do not need a full restart from foundational topics. Specifically in this course, IMS offers CAT Final Lap, CAT Masterclass, VARC Live Booster and DILR Live Booster for candidates.

3. Self-learning program: This is an ideal program for candidates who are looking only for getting latest IMS Coaching Material for CAT 2026. IMS says this program is useful for people who have prepared for or attempted an exam before, understand their strengths and weaknesses, and want to improve at their own pace. The page also notes that some self-learning options target an individual section—such as VARC or Quantitative Aptitude—and start from that section's basics.

4. Test Series: The test-series category is for aspirants who mainly need testing and practice content rather than a full CAT coaching program. IMS CAT Mock Tests are offered in different packages based on whether students want only mocks, or mocks plus extra CAT practice, or CAT plus other MBA entrance exams.

- IMS SimCATs: full-length CAT-style mocks intended to help candidates practise exam timing and strategy.
- IMS Section tests: allow focused practice in individual CAT sections.
- IMS Solutions and analysis: the pages highlight video solutions, AI-powered adaptive questions, AI performance insights and national benchmarking.

IMS also offers higher bundles can include extra DILR, RC and VA practice; CAT masterclass exercises; previous-year papers; GK resources; and ADMAT mocks for exams beyond CAT.

5. Elite Program: IMS Elite is an advanced route for candidates who already have strong conceptual foundations and have performed well in competitive exams. The page describes eligibility categories that include students from a specified group of 85 colleges, past CAT takers with 90+ percentile, and certain professional qualification groups (including CA, CFA, CS, CMA/ICWA and doctors). The CATapult Elite offers myPlan sessions, advanced live workshops and SimCATs; practice exercises with video solutions, CAT masterclasses, sectional tests, topic-wise benchmarking tests, ADMAT resources and PI preparation.
