MAH MBA CET 2027 Two Attempts: Which is better?

The 2027 exam is expected to follow the two-attempt system used in 2026. You can register for one or both attempts, each attempt is scored as a separate percentile, and if you take both, the better of your two percentiles is used for CAP admission. In 2026, the second attempt came 31 days after the first. Candidates could choose it while registering, add it in the edit window or sign up on April 24. The fee is per attempt, so both cost ₹3,000 (₹2,600 for Maharashtra reserved categories).

Parameter	First attempt (2026)	Second attempt (2026)
Exam date	April 6–8, 2026	May 9, 2026
Sessions	Five	Two
Registrations	1,32,838	48,588
Appeared	To be confirmed	41,440

Should You Take Both Attempts?

Taking both gives you a safety net and recommended. It is most useful if you are aiming for JBIMS, SIMSREE or PUMBA, where cut-offs sit above the 99th percentile. Decide at registration, when adding the attempt is simplest.

MAH MBA CET Exam Pattern 2027: Sections, Marking Scheme, Duration

The MAH MBA CET exam pattern 2027 is expected to remain 200 multiple-choice questions in 150 minutes: Logical Reasoning 75, Abstract Reasoning 25, Quantitative Aptitude 50 and Verbal Ability/Reading Comprehension 50. Each correct answer earns one mark and there is no negative marking.

official brochure describes what each area tests but publishes no topic list, so the topics below are drawn from the 2026 papers and slot analyses. MAH MBA CET Result 2027: Answer Key, Normalisation, Scorecard

The MAH MBA CET 2027 result is expected in the last week of May 2027 for the first attempt and the second week of June for the second, based on the 2026 result dates of May 30 and June 12. Results are declared as session-wise percentiles, and the better percentile counts for candidates who take both attempts.

Answer Key and Objections

In 2026, the CET Cell displayed the question paper, responses and MAH MBA CET answer key in the candidate login, and candidates could challenge questions online for ₹1,000 each over three days. In the first attempt, 34 questions were challenged and 11 were upheld; in the second attempt, 29 were challenged and 6 were upheld. Of the 17 upheld questions, 13 earned every candidate in that session a bonus mark and 4 had their answer key changed.

How MAH MBA CET Normalisation Works

Each session has a different paper, so raw marks are converted into percentiles separately for every session: your percentile is the share of candidates in your session who scored equal to or less than you, multiplied by 100. The top scorer in every session gets the 100th percentile, and percentiles are calculated to seven decimal places to reduce ties.

How to Download the Scorecard

1. Visit cetcell.mahacet.org and open the "MBA/MMS-CET Scorecard" link.
2. Click "Download Score Card" and enter your application number, date of birth and any security PIN.
3. Download, save and print the scorecard.

The scorecard shows your details, overall score and overall percentile, and is needed for CAP registration.

MAH MBA CET 2026 Toppers

The CAP provisional merit list for 2026 named 6 Maharashtra State candidates and 19 All India candidates at the 100th percentile; of the All India toppers, 11 qualified through MAH MBA CET, 6 through GMAT, one through CAT and one through CMAT.
