NMAT Test Centre Vs Online Proctored at Home? Which NMAT Exam Mode Should I Choose?

NMAT 2026 offers two delivery modes: Test Centre mode at 50 GMAC-authorised centres across India, and Online Proctored at Home mode taken remotely via live webcam proctoring. Choosing the right NMAT 2026 exam mode is one of the most important decisions candidates make during registration and a decision that cannot be changed later except by booking a retake. Test Centre mode works best for candidates who value a distraction-free, supervised environment and live near an NMAT centre. Online Proctored at Home is ideal for candidates in cities without NMAT centres those with a reliable high-speed internet setup and a private, quiet room. Based on NMAT 2025 patterns, roughly 70–75% of Indian candidates choose Test Centre mode for better focus and fewer technical risks, while Online Proctored at Home works well for tech-comfortable aspirants and working professionals balancing tight schedules. The comparison table below captures all 14 factors to help you decide.

| Factor | Test Centre Mode | Online Proctored at Home Mode |
|---|---|---|
| Availability | 54 cities in India | Anywhere with broadband & webcam |
| Test Environment | GMAC-controlled, distraction-free | Depends on your home setup |
| IT Technical Risk | Minimal (centre manages systems) | Higher — power, internet, hardware on you |
| Setup Required | None | Talview Secure Browser, webcam, microphone |
| Distraction Risk | Very low | Moderate to high (home interruptions) |
| Travel Required | Yes | None |
| Reporting Time | 45 minutes before exam | 20 minutes before exam (login) |
| Supervision | Multiple on-site proctors | Single remote proctor via webcam |
| Stress Factor | Lower (professional environment) | Higher (self-managed setup) |
| Ideal For | First-timers, metro candidates | Tech-savvy, remote-location candidates |
